VOLUME CVI.---NO. 47. ALEXANDRIA, VA., FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 24, 1905. PRICE 2 CENTS.

DON'T BE HYPNOTISED,

Hoodwinked, hoodooed, or over-persuaded into accepting a substitute for Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription with its record of nearly 40 years, embracing hundreds of thousands of cures of woman's peculiar ailments. It's the only remedy for woman's ills sold by druggists, that is not full of "booze"—poor whisky, or bad alcohol.

A guarantee of $1000 is offered that "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, opium or other harmful drug. Keeps in any climate.

"Favorite Prescription" is a powerful invigorating tonic, and imparts strength to the whole system and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to attempt to palm off upon you an alcoholic substitute for this world-famed medicine. You know what you want. It's his business to meet that want. When he urges some substitute he's thinking of the larger profit he'll make—not of your welfare.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 500,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away $50,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away $50,000 worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in stiff paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

If out of health, write to old Dr. Pierce. He will send you good, fatherly, professional advice without charge.

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the smallest, the easiest to take, and the easiest in the way they act. No griping, no violence, no disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. They are the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce, over 40 years ago. They have been much imitated but never equaled. They come in vials, always fresh and reliable; a convenient vest-pocket remedy.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

"Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

LAST RITES OVER SERGIUS.

The solemn ceremony of blessing the remains of the Grand Duke Sergius was performed at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in the midst of the tolling of bells of all the churches and monasteries of Moscow. Immense crowds thronged the open squares in front of the palaces and there was a considerable display of troops in the streets. Grenadiers of the Kieff regiment furnished the guard at the Chaudoff monastery, which was the scene of the funeral services.

So far as the public was concerned nothing could be seen beyond the carriages of those invited to the funeral, which quickly filled the small available space. After blessing the body it was conveyed to the adjoining church of St. Andrew, where it was laid on a catafalque. The coffin was concealed by a mass of floral wreaths and crosses. The officials of Grand Duke Sergius' household and his aides-de-camp formed a circle around the bier while the regiments of the Moscow garrison furnished contingents for the guard of honor.

The scene within the church was pathetic. The guard of honor was drawn back as the imperial party entered to take their places before the bier.

The coffin in which rested the remains of the murdered Grand Duke stood upon a great catafalque covered with cloth of gold, on the four corners of which were imperial eagles, while below on cushions rested the orders of the dead man. The coffin was covered with cloth of silver trimmed with ermine. The mangled body lay in state, dressed in full uniform, but a veil of fine lace was disposed over the remains of the multilated face. A gloved hand held an ikon of St. Nicholas.

The Grand Duke's widow, the Grand Duchess Elizabeth, took her place at the foot of the coffin in front of a group of other members of the imperial family. She was arrayed in the deepest black, save the scarlet ribbon of the Order of St. Anne, and was the center of all eyes.

The metropolitan and 10 bishops conducted the service, which was accompanied by recitative chanting by the imperial choir.

The air of the church was heavy with the incense of swinging censers. When the metropolitan read the prayer for absolution all present knelt, many of those in the rear of the church prostrating themselves.

The children of Grand Duke Paul—Dmitri and Mary—sobbed aloud, but it was only when the time came to kiss the dead, according to the custom of the orthodox faith, that the Grand Duchess Elizabeth almost broke down. Her tall, slight figure shook and swayed, and she was about to fall, when Grand Duke Constantine gave her support. She kissed the uniform on the left breast thrice. When this touching ordeal was over the lid was placed on the coffin, and it was lifted up and borne on the shoulders of the grand dukes and aides-de camp attached to Grand Duke Sergius' household, and carried in silent procession, preceded by priests in golden vestments to the church of St. Andrew, within the monastery.

There a brief service of consignment to the grave took place, after which the body was placed in a vault, where it will remain until removed to St. Petersburg.

Exactly at noon as the ceremony concluded Moscow's 500 bells began telling, and the people who gathered on Red Square dispersed. The streets were quieter than usual. Most of the shops were closed.

Infernal Machine for Senator.

Addressed to United States Senator Penrose at Washington, an ingeniously constructed infernal machine was found done up in an innocent looking package in a private mail box in the hallway of 1210 Market street, Philadelphia, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Archibald J. Williams, a photographer, to whom the mail box belonged, and who discovered the package, turned it over to Captain of Detectives Donaghy at the City Hall, who succeeded in opening the box without exploding its contents. There was sufficient gunpowder and nitro-glycerine in the package to have wrecked a building, and it was so constructed that an attempt to open it in the ordinary way would undoubtedly have caused it to explode. The outside of the package consisted of a plain white pasteboard box, on which was pasted the following inscripton, evidently clipped from the headlines of some paper or circular: "For Senator Penrose, Congress Washington." There were no stamps on the package, and it was tied with ordinary twine. Inside this package was a wrapper of light brown paper tightly tied with twine, and with a number of cuts and inscriptions pasted on it. On the second wrapper was the inscription: "President Roosevelt—We are not in any trust, time limited, inauguration." It is the opinion of Capt. Donaghy that the work was undoubtedly that of a crank, with a decidedly dangerous tendency, and devilish ingenuity who has a deadly animosity to certain prominent men, and they recall that Guiteau was a crank of this kind.

Girl Wife Murdered by Husband.

A youthful marriage terminated in a tragedy late on Wednesday night, in London, a husband murdering his wife and subsequently attempting suicide before the eyes of a roomful of horror-stricken friends. The victim, Nellie Gwendoline Kingham, was a pretty, goldenhaired girl of 17, and her husband, Frank Percy Kingham, it a laborer nine years older. The couple had been married a year, and their happiness had been frequently marred by the man's jealousy, which was easily aroused by attentions paid to his wife. They occupied lodgings in Netherwood road, Shepherd's Bush. On Wednesday they visited the girl's aunt, Mrs. Allcock, who lives in Shouldham street, Edgware road, Mrs. Kingham's mother being also a visitor. A convivial evening was spent, but angry words passed between Kingham and his wife. At about 10:30 o'clock the pair was preparing to leave, when, without warning, the man flung his arm round his young wife's neck, kissed her passionately, drew a razor across her throat, and then turned the weapon on himself. Two children rushed, screaming, into the street, but when the police entered the house they found the girl already dead. The man's wound, although severe, is not considered dangerous, and he will probably recover.

Will Care for Leo Wheat.

Mr. Robert B. Wicker, owner and manager of the Hotel Association, saw Governor Warfield yesterday to arrange for the removal of Leo Wheat, the southern pianist, from Bayview Asylum, where he was committed by Justice Graunau several days ago. Mr. Wicker, who is an enthusiastic violinist, desires to befriend and provide for the aged musician whose playing thrilled his audiences in days gone by. Mr. Wicker has practically arranged for the pianist's release, and will take him to his home, 318 west Mulberry street, as soon as the governor signs the order of his release.—[Baltimore American.

A Comparison of Muslin Underclothes With Others.

Put side by side they tell the story; the extra care and watchfulness exercised by this store shows in every garment. Night Gowns are asmost half a yard wider at the hips than others selling elsewhere at the same price. Chemises instead of being shapeless things looking like a petticoat with a top cut out in V shape are shaped to fit. Corset Covers are cut right to go over straight front corsets, and under tight-fitting bodies. When it comes to the laces and embroideries and materials from which the underclothes are made, you would in most cases choose ours with your eyes shut. You won't find a piece of muslin among them filled up with clay to make it heavy, nor anything pretending to be nainsook which is as coarse as a salt bag. Yet all of these improvements don't make our prices higher than in Washington.

Night Gowns, 39c to $2.50. Drawers, 25c to $1.50. Petticoats, 49c to $2.50. Chemises, 25c to $1.00.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, FEB. 24, 1905.

THIRTY-TWO years ago Charles Sumner introduced a bill to prohibit emblazoning upon the flags of the army the names of battles between fellow-citizens. For that proposition the legislature of Massachusetts formally censured him—an act of which a subsequent legislature became ashamed. On Tuesday a republican member of Congress from Minnesota asked for and received unanimous consent for the consideration of a resolution to return to the respective States the battle flags held by the War Department. This was a proposition to restore to the Southern States the captured Confederate flags and this resolution had been presented by Mr. Lamb, of Virginia, and favorably reported upon by the committee to which it had been referred. Not a word of opposition was offered, and the resolution was adopted with applause. Yesterday the measure came up in the Senate and that body promptly adopted it, so the old flags, so dear to the people of the South, but which now represent but memories of the past, will be restored to those who will cherish them so long as they last. In speaking of the return of the flags the Philadelphia Record, always a friend of the people of the South, says:

Why should not the battle flags be given back to the States whose sons fought and died under them? The whole purpose of the war on the part of the North was to establish the indissolubility of the union. Does any one suppose that harmony between the constituent elements of the union is promoted by treasuring the trophies of victories won in the contest between the States? Does any one suppose that patriotism, that loyalty to the new union, needs the stimulus of these tokens of triumph? The battlefields remain and will always be sacred to both North and South. The courage there displayed was the courage of men who were equally American soldiers, whether they wore uniforms of blue or of gray or "butternut." The history of their exploits is a part of the history of the nation, and a source of pride to all its citizens, whether from Pennsylvania or Mississippi. But the swords that were given up, the arms that were laid down, the battle flags wrenched from the hands of death—these are the emblems of victory which might much better be given back to our fellow-citizens, the sons of the men who used those weapons and who fought heriocally under those flags. The war is over. "Let us have peace."

CHARLES E. RUSSELL in an article on "The Greatest Trust in the World," just published in one of the monthly magazines, says:

In the free republic of the United States of America is a power greater than the government, greater than the courts or judges, greater than legislatures, superior to and independent of all authority of State or nation. Three times a day this power comes to the table of every household in America, rich or poor, great or small, known or unknown; it comes there and extorts its tribute. It fixes at its own will the price of every pound of fresh, salted, smoked or preserved meat prepared and sold in the United States. It fixes the price of every ham every pound of bacon, every pound of lard, every can of prepared soup. It has an absolute monopoly of our enormous meat exports, dressed and preserved. It can affect the cost of living in Aberdeen and Geneva as easily as in Chicago and New York. It has in the last three years increased, for its own benefit, the expenses of every household in America. It controls or influences the prices of one-half the food consumed by the nation. It has its share in the proceeds of more commodities of daily consumption than all other trusts, combinations and monopolies together, and the prices of these it seeks to augment for its own profit. It can make, within certain limits, the price of wheat, of corn, of oats, what it pleases; it will shortly be able to control the price of every loaf of bread. I am quite well aware that my words may seem extravagant to the generality of readers; to those who know the history and actual operations of the American beef trust they will appear an understatement of galling and humiliating truths.

Every word of this is true and shows how the American people are taken advantage of and robbed under American "laws" passed for their "protection."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has finally reluctantly given up all hope of railroad rate legislation in this Congress and all desire for an extra session of the next Congress in the spring to revise the tariff. But he still has a lingering notion of calling an extra session next October, when both the tariff and railroad rates can be taken into consideration. When October shall come the presidential mind will probably reach the conclusion that there is no such pressing emergency in public affairs as to demand an extraordinary session of Congress.

ANOTHER thing to be seriously considered is the wear and tear on overcoats. Indeed it is feared that by the time the cold weather ends this aforesaid garment will be beyond the repair stage and cannot even be "hocked."

OVER HALF of the ground hog's six weeks has gone.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.

It is the impression among those who visit the White House and the departments that Congressman Slemp will turn out every Agnew man in the State of Virginia who holds a federal office if he can, beginning with Mr. Agnew himself, regardless of the official records of those officeholders. Although the term of office of Mr. Crupper, postmaster at Alexandria, will not expire till next year, already it is reported a number of residents of Alexandria are applicants for the position, among those mentioned being Lawrence Washington, W. H. P. Kelly, Frank Evans, and S. R. Dishman. It is said that Mr. Kelly has a numerously signed petition indorsing him for the place, but people here say that it is too early in the game yet to tell what effect this petition will have on the appointing powers. At the Postoffice Department it is said that Postmaster Crupper's record is an excellent one and many Alexandrians who come here daily say he has heretofore secured indorsement of the business interests in his city and they believe he can do so again when the time comes.

The Secretary of War will recommend to the next Congress that the strength of the artillery of the United States army be increased by 5,000 enlisted men and a proper proportion of officers. This decision on the part of Secretary Taft was reached after an investigation on the part of the general staff of the army into the needs of the coast defense system of this country and necessity of having additional men to man the coast defenses of the insular possession of the United States. The committee also recommended that legislation be sought to provide for the organization of a reserve artillery force which would be part of the organized militia. This recommendation has also been approved by the President and the Secretary of War.

The Panama Canal Commission today appointed Consul General Gudge at Panama, to be judge of the canal zone in place of Judge Kyle, who is home on on indefinite leave.

A new high speed telegraph instrument capable of transmitting 2,000 words a minute has just been successfully tried between Koenigsburg and Berlin, Germany. U. S. Consul Liefeld, writing the State Department from Freiburg says of the apparatus and its work: Only one wire is required for transmitting and receiving messages; the message sent is received in plain printed characters and the mechanism is much less complicated than other systems heretofore tried.

There is no doubt that the Senate will give the necessary authority for the proposed recess investigation into the railroad rate question and the committee will be authorized to sit at its convenience, which means that it will hold its sessions at such times and in such places as it deems best. The hearings on this subject at the present session will be discontinued.

When the Swayne court of impeachment assembled, at noon, today, final arguments on the part of the House managers, begun last night, were continued, Mr Perkins devoting his argument to the question of non-residence. It is the present understanding that the Senate will sit as a court today until the arguments are completed. If this decision is carried out, adjournment will not be taken until 11 o'clock tonight. During the arguments the floor of the Senate was almost deserted.

Mr. Daniel introduce an amendment in the Senate today to be offered to the sundry civil appropriation bill, appropriation $650,000 in aid of the Jamestown, Va., exposition celebration, to be apportioned as follows: $250,000 for pay of salaries, preliminary arrangements, etc.; $175,000 for the entertainment of guests; $150,000 for the erection of temporary government buildings; $50,000 for the erection of a permanent monument; $15,000 for permanent moorings; $10,000 for exhibiting old monitors on the scene of the battle between the Monitor and Merrimac.

Representative Hinshaw of Nebraska called at the White House today to ask President Roosevelt to appoint to the army five young men who were dismissed from West Point on May 21, 1901, "because they joined in a demonstration against the superintendent of the Academy." Under the law they cannot be sent back to the Academy but may be given lieutenancies in the army after two years from the date of their dismissal from the school.

Fifty-Eighth Congress.

Washington, Feb. 24.

SENATE.

Responding to the pressure of business the Senate met one hour earlier today.

Mr. Beveridge renewed his motion of some days ago, that the statehood bill be sent to conference.

Just as the chair was about to declare the motion carried, and appoint conferees, Mr. Morgan secured the floor. It lacked but one minute until the sitting of the court of impeachment. An agreement had been reached by the conflicting forces whereby Mr. Beveridge and two of the New Mexico adherents would constitute the conferees. Mr. Bate whispered that information to the Senator. It was unavailing. "I wish to discuss the motion," declared Mr. Morgan.

The chair, glancing at the clock, announced that the hour for the impeachment trial had arrived.

A laugh went through the chamber.

Mr. Morgan had no need of further speech. He had for the time effectually blocked action on the statehood bill. The bill went over, he took his seat, and the court assembled.

The Swayne impeachment case then came up.

HOUSE.

The House met today at 11 o'clock and after Chairman Hull of the military affairs committee had submitted the conference report on the military appropriation bill, private pension bills were considered, and a large number of them passed.

Operating by unanimous consent, a bill to construct a light house and fog signal, on Diamond Shoals, N. C., and a number of the bills were passed

Mr. Maddox, demanded the regular order, and shut off further unanimous consents.

The Senate amendments to the Panama canal zone government bill, were disagreed to, and the bill sent to conference.

The sundry civil appropriation bill was then taken up, in committee of the whole.

General debate was limited to four hours.

Mr. Hemenway of Indiana, chairman of the committee on appropriations, said that the bill carried an appropriation of $65,558,880, on increase of $7,718,669, over the appropriation for the current year.

Mr. Crumpacker, was given an hour to discuss the suffrage question of the South. He prefaced his remarks by declaring that he had carefully prepared his remarks, and hoped that he would not be interrupted or drawn into a controversy.

Mr. Crumpacker, after showing the importance of the subject to all parts of the country referred to planks in the republican platform and concluded by saying that it would be "wholesome and beneficial to the people of all races in all parts of the country to have representation on strict constitutional grounds. The result would be a reduction of about twenty representatives in the southern States, but, in a large degree, it would remove the troublesome race problem from the politics of the country. The whole question would then rest with the South and in the near future that section would realize the importance of admitting the worthy and intelligent negro to the right of the ballot in the securing of a larger influence in federal politics.

Mr. Wallace answered Mr. Crumpacker defending the South.

GEN. MILES' ON THE TREATMENT OF DAVIS.

Though Gen. Nelson A. Miles declared in an interview in Boston yesterday that he did not intend to make any reply to the letter of Mrs. Jefferson Davis, in which she charged General Milles with perpetrating cruelties as custodian of her husband, Jefferson Davis, at the close of the civil war, he has written an article for this week's issue of the Independent on "My Treatment of Jefferson Davis," in which, after referring to the assassination of President Lincoln, General Miles mentions that Mr. Davis did not surrender with his principal armies, but "it was his intention, as he admits in his own book, 'The Rise and Fall of the Confederate Government,' to try to escape and cross the Mississippi so that he could join the Confederate army in that section and continue the war."

"He was hunted down and caught near Irwinville, Ga. He was sent to Fortress Monroe to await trial on the charge of complicity in the assassination of Mr. Lincoln. It was the expectation and purpose of the government to bring him to trial on that charge as soon as the trial of the assassins then going on was completed."

General Miles quotes the proclamation of President Johnson that it appeared from the evidence in the Bureau of Military Justice that the murder of the late President, Abraham Lincoln, and the attempted assassination of William H. Seward, Secretary of State, "were incited, concerted and procured by and between Jefferson Davis * * * and other rebels and traitors."

Details for the close study of Mr. Davis were drawn up by Major-General Halleck, and Charles A. Dana, Assistant Secretary of War, went by direction of the Secretary of War to Fortress Monroe, where he issued an order that "Major-General Miles is hereby authorized to place manacles and fetters upon the hands and feet of Jefferson Davis and Clement C. Clay whenever he may think it advisable, in order to render their imprisonment more secure."

General Miles relates that notification was sent to Fortress Monroe of several plots to effect the escape or rescue of Mr. Davis. To comply with what was suggested by the orders of Assistant Secretary Dana and General Halleck "light anklets were placed upon the ankles of Jefferson Davis in order to prevent the possibility of his attempting to jump past the guard or commit any act of violence while the wooden doors were being removed from the room which he occupied and grated doors substituted. These did not prevent his walking about the room. * * * The change of doors was completed in five days, and the anklets were then removed."

General Miles says Mr. Davis's physical condition at that time has been misrepresented, that he was strong and agile, that when the anklets were put on him he knocked down one powerful man and it took four strong men to hold him.

"There was not the least desire," continues General Miles, "or purpose on the part of any official of the government to place any indignities upon Mr. Davis or in any way to humiliate him."

General Miles inserts in his article the following letter from Mrs. Jefferson Davis as an answer to the insinuations that discourtesies were shown to Mr. Davis:

Fort Monroe, Va., May 23, 1865.

Please receive my thanks for your courtesy and kind answers to my questions of this morning (May 23). I cannot quit the harbor without begging you again to look after my husband's health for me. Yours very respectfully,

VARINA DAVIS.

Every precaution, says General Miles, was taken to prevent the possibility of Mr. Davis's health being impaired by his confinement. General Miles produces evidence in the form of letters to substantiate this. He adds that all the changes that were made from time to time to give Mr. Davis more liberty and additional comforts were made by him (Miles) or upon his recommendation.

Affairs in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24.—Fifty thousand employes of five St. Petersburg factories are today again out on strike.

Warsaw, Feb. 24.—As a result of the tying up of the railway lines by the striking workmen, Warsaw is today practically isolated except for telegraphic communication. There are no mails arriving and the supply of provisions from the outside has been stopped with the stoppage of the lines. Irregular communication with St. Petersburg alone remains. Soldiers are guarding the stations to prevent any disorderly acts by the strikers.

London, Feb. 24.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Central News reports that the Grand Duchess Elizabeth widow of the late Grand Duke Sergius, yesterday visited her late husband's murderer in prison, with the object of discovering the motive for Sergius' assassination. The Simplon Tunnel.

Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 24.—The boring of the Simplon tunnel, the longest tunnel in the world, was completed at 7:20 o'clock this morning. The accomplishment of the great engineering feat was celebrated in fitting manner by the ringing of bells, and the firing of guns throughout the country. Work on the Simplon tunnel which is over thirteen miles long, was begun two years ago. Straight through the heart of the Alps, the passage way has been bored. Work was begun at both ends of the tunnel simultaneously and a remarkable part of the feat is that when the two working parties met this morning, there was barely a foot's deviation. The work has been a most difficult one, owing to the fact that the bore passed through some of the highest mountains of the Alps. Owing to this feat the heat in the bore sometimes became unbearable, the thermometer in the spots where the diggers were at work sometimes registering over three hundred degrees. This necessitated the arranging of some contrivance for getting fresh, cooling air into the workmen, and as a result the engineers in charge, after weeks of experiment, hit on a scheme by which the outside air was fanned in through the long bore and the temperature in the tunnel was reduced until in a few places, was it higher than 90 or 95 degrees. The men for some peculiar reason have been entirely free from the illness which ordinarily overtakes those working so far under ground, and to this fact is due the speed with which the great work was accomplished.

Gems for Mrs. Roosevelt.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The President will give Mrs. Roosevelt on the morning of the inauguration a handsome gift of diamonds, an ornament which she selected from a New York firm during her recent visit. He will also signal this happy family event by giving Miss Alice and Miss Ethel Roosevelt a gift of jewelry selected by Mrs. Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt will go to New York on Monday for the last fitting of her gown for the inaugural ball, which is now nearly ready. Her gown for the ceremonies of the inaugural proper will be made in Washington by a modiste, who is doing nearly all the work at the White House. It will be of light cloth, made after the latest mode, but will be plain and unassuming in appearance. A toque to match this suit is being fashioned by Mrs. Roosevelt's milliner here. Since January 1 the mistress of the White House has employed a French maid, a luxury hitherto unknown in the Roosevelt family,

Discontented Railway Men.

Rome, Feb. 24.—The railway workers are greatly discontented, and are not inclined to accept the government's proposals regarding a settlement of the grievances, which were presented to the governors of the roads by the men. It is believed a strike is imminent throughout the peninsula.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Feb. 24.—Much to the surprise of a large proportion of the traders, quotations for American railway shares in London were above New York parity of last night and reflected none of the disturbances which developed near the close in the local market. This helped to influence a good tone in the early dealings here. The feature in the industrials was Southern Iron and Coal stocks. Official announcement of the sale of the control of the Sloss-Sheffield caused the stock to open four per cent. above last night and further gained 2¼. The market developed irregularity in the second hour, with some tendency to reaction.

Young Woman Assaulted by a Negro.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 24.—This city is in a turmoil over an assault on Miss Mamie Marsh. As she was going home last night, one block from the State House, she was seized by a negro, dragged in the yard of a residencce and beaten into insensibility. Two hours later a young man passing the yard heard groans, found her almost dead, and carried her to her home. Governor Vardeman at 11 o'clock last night addressed a large mass meeting at the Court House, urging the capture of her assailant, and offering $500 reward for him alive. If the man is found he may be lynched. The young woman may die.

Boulder on Senseless Victim.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 24.—John Ryan, aged 23 years, was the victim of most cruel highwaymen at Heckscherville yesterday. He was stopped on a lonely road while en route from Coal Castle to that place on his way home. After being beaten into insensibility he was robbed. He was then bound, gagged and placed face down in the snow, and a rock weighing 100 pounds was rolled upon his neck and back. His sisters, on their way home from a social gathering, discovered his plight and rescued him. He is in a very critical condition. The police are on the track of the highwaymen.

Reported Conspiracy.

Turin, Italy, Feb. 24.—The military guard watching over the Countess Theodolina Bon Martini, and her alleged confederates in the murder of the Countess's husband, has been strengthened because of a reported conspiracy to abduct the countess. The examination of Rosa Bonetti, charged with being an accomplice in the murder, was begun today. The prisoner broke down on several occasions. Her testimony was full of contradictions and fresh versions of what actually happened, so that it was next to impossible to get at the truthful facts in the case.

Dr. Harper's Condition.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—President William R. Harper, of the University of Chicago, today will pass through the crisis of his after effects of his operation at the Presbyterian Hospital, and if his condition continues to improve as it has done ever since Dr. McBurney made the incision which discovered a growth of malignant cancer, the surgeons say the educator will be on the road to recovery with practically all danger of blood poisoning elimated. At the hospital it was said that Mr. Harper passed a good night and was resting quietly.

The marriage was kept a secret from the girl's parents until today, Nevens continuing to call upon his bride's elder sister, to whom he had been engaged.

Strike in Paris.

Paris, Feb. 24.—Five thousand workmen employed at the various carriage-making factories of Paris and vicinity today went out on strike.

BATTLE FLAGS TO BE RETURNED.

The Senate passed yesterday the bill to return to the various States the union and Confederate battle flags captured during the civil war. This bill passed the House on Tuesday and came before the Senate yesterday and passed by a unanimous vote. Senator Foraker, who, when governor of Ohio, raised such strenuous opposition to the return of the Confederate flags when the executive order was issued by President Cleveland, in 1887, made no objection to the passage of the bill, and it now goes to the President for his signature to become a law.

There are at present 544 flags of different States stored in one of the attic rooms at the War Department. Of these 100 are union flags and about 444 Confederate flags, all recovered at the fall of the confederacy. Previous to 1887 a number of these captured flags had been returned by the different Secretaries of War to various States, the majority, however, being turned over to organizations in the northern States who had captured them during the war. Up to that date 22 union flags and 22 Confederate flags had been thus delivered. In 1887 Adjutant General Drum, of the army, addressed a letter to the then Secretary of War William C. Endicott, suggesting that the return of the union flags to organizations representing survivors of military regiments in the service of the government be made on application properly supported, and added: "I beg to submit that it would be a graceful act to anticipate future requests of this nature, and venture to suggest the propriety of returning all flags (union and Confederate) to the authorities of the respective states in which the regiments which bore these colors were organized, for such final disposition as they may determine." He ended his letter by suggesting that after 20 years since the end of the war the prominent leaders of late Confederate States were honored representatives of the people in the national councils, and that the people of the several states composing the Union were now united. He thought this would be a fitting way of disposing of the flags. The Secretary of War laid the matter before President Cleveland, and the result was the famous order of Grover Cleveland returning the flags, which was indorsed as follows by Secretary Endicott:

"The within recommendations approved by the President, and the Adjutant General will prepare letters to governors of all those States whose troops carried the colors and flags in this department, with the offer to return them as herein proposed. The history of each flag and the circumstances of its capture or recapture should be given."

Adjutant General Drum wrote the letters and sent them. The one to Gov. Foraker, of Ohio, which immediately brought forth the celebrated protest in which he decl[illegible] Confederate flag should be [illegible] while he was governor, aroused so much feeling that, on June 16, 1887, President Cleveland wrote a letter to the Secretary of War revoking his approval of the suggestion of the Adjutant General for the return of the captured flags. In his letter Mr. Cleveland stated that he had given the subject more care then when it was orally presented to him, and added:

"I am of the opinion that the return of these flags in the manner thus contemplated is not authorized by existing law, nor justified as an executive act. I request, therefore, that no further steps be taken in the matter, except to examine and inventory these flags and adopt proper measure for their preservation. Any direction to the final disposition of them should originate with Congress."

Bills have been introduced in Congress to authorize the return of these flags, but all have failed to pass until this session, and this bill passed the Senate today, and has settled the vexed question, and the flags will be returned.

On the 544 flags now in the attic of the War Department, there is but one to be returned to the State of Maryland. This one is No. 81, and is a regimental flag of the Ninth Maryland Infantry, captured at Charles Town, Va., by the Eighteenth Virginia Cavalry under Colonel Imboden.

Russian Affairs.

The Czar has decided that the war shall continue, and has so advised Emperor William. Russian War Office officials have assured the Czar that Field Marshal Oyama not only cannot defeat General Kuropatkin, but is in danger of defeat himself.

It is now believed that King Edward and Emperor William, as well as the President of France, have tried to influence the Czar to make peace, but that the counsel of the Russian war party has prevailed. Diplomats in Washington believe that the recent revival of the peace movement is a step nearer to the ending of the great struggle, notwithstanding the reported decision of the Czar that the war shall go on.

Continued activity of the Japanese on the Russian right and left flanks, and the damage done by them to the Manchurian Railroad, together with the fact that the Russian press censors are again cutting out much of the news from the front, indicate that an important engagement has either begun or is imminent. Marshal Oyama evidently has several movements in progress for the purpose of endeavoring to cut Kuropatkin's lines of communication.

Peculiar Disappearance.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Verdict for Railway Company.

The case of James S. Cotton vs. Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon Railway Company, in which he claimed damages in the sum of $6,000, for an alleged unlawful ejection from one of the trains of said company, on August 12, 1903, was yesterday tried before Judge Barnard and a jury, in the the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. The plaintiff claimed that he had purchased a round-trip ticket from Washington to Alexandria; that the conductor of defendant's train, on the way to Alexandria, by mistake tore off the return coupon of the ticket; and that when, upon the return trip from Alexandria, plaintiff tendered the remaining and wrong end of the ticket, the conductur declined to receive it. The plaintiff, nevertheless, insisted that he be given transportation on said wrong end of the ticket, claiming that the mistake had been that of the conductor of the other train and that he was not responsible for that mistake. The conductor offered Mr. Cotton the option of paying his fare or getting off the train, but the latter declined to do either. He was thereupon removed from the train by the conductor, no physical injury, however, having been sustained by Mr. Cotton in the act of so removing him. Under the foregoing facts, the court directed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant railway company, upon the ground that the ticket upon its face showed that it was only good for a passage from Washington to Alexandria, and that Mr. Cotton was attemping to use it in the opposite direction; and that, as between a passenger and a conductor, the face of the ticket conclusively establishes the rights of each party; and inasmuch as in this case the face of the ticket showed that it was not good for the passage where it was attempted to be used, it was the duty of Mr. Cotton to pay his fare or leave the train, and that as he declined to do either, the conductor had the lawful right to forcibly remove him.

Killed by Switching Engine.

Mordecai Hurst, a Southern Railway watchman, was struck by a switching engine in the yard aojoining this city shortly before 8 o'clock last night and instantly killed, the unfortunate man having been literally severed in twain. Hurst, accompanied by Hugh Latham, another employee of the company, was walking on the north bound track when a Baltimore and Ohio train was seen coming. The two men stepped to the south bound track in front of a switching engine which was speeding up the track, when Latham was struck and knocked aside, escaping with slight injuries, but Hurst was knocked down upon the track, and cut in two, his body being horribly mangled. The unfortunate man is survived by a widow and several children, one but two days old. The deceased was a native of Fanquier county, but he had resided in this city and Fairfax county during the past six or eight years. He at one time conducted a store at the corner of King and West streets. Hurst had of late been a constable in Fairfax county. He was at one time an employee of the Virginia Glass Works.

Justice Pelton (in the absence of Dr. Purvis, the Coroner,) held an inquest over the remains today at Demaine & Son's undertaking establishment. The jury brought in a verdict to the effect that Hurst's death was the result of an accident, and that no blame is attached to any one.

Fraternal Visit.

Under the auspices of Osceola Tribe, No. 1, I. O. R. M., a large delegation of Red Men from the White Eagle, Sioux and Logan tribes, of Washington, D. C., paid an official visit to this city last night, when Past Chief Haymaker A. E. McClure, assisted by Brothers S. M. Pearson, C. E. Beveridge and J. E. Shaw, of the Haymakers' Association, instituted a loft to be known as Osceola Hayloft, No. 1½, and the following officers were elected and duly instituted: Past chief haymakers, H. McLearen and John Abendshein; chief haymaker, A. D. Deeton; assistant haymaker; Chas. W. Bell; overseer, A. T. Sullivan; collector of straw, Conrad Schwab; keeper of bundles, C. M. Schwab; boss driver, Jno. Abendshein; horn blower, Joseph Martin; guard of barn door, Geo. Patterson; guard of hayloft, Geo. S. Finch. About forty members united with the loft and the work was exemplified on a number of candidates who received the degrees, after which the visiting brethren were served with refreshments and left on the last electric train for Washington, highly pleased with their success in haymaking, funmaking and merriment.

The Weather and River.

The mild weather of the past few days has had its effect upon the ice and snow in the streets, much of which has melted. Some thoroughfares, however, are in a bad condition from the effects of the thaw, and many intersections are at times rendered almost impassable by the water which rises to the curb stones. The mercury in the thermometer at 9 o'clock this morning stood at 38°.

Conditions on the river have undergone but little perceptible change since yesterday. A wide path has been cut in the main channel by steamers passing up and down. The fragments of ice, however, continue matted together and are unmoved by the ebbing and flowing of the tide.

The steamer Washington arrived up from Norfolk this morning about an hour behind time.

He attended the Masonic banquet on Wednesday night under the escort of Mr. Marshall Leake Dinwiddie, of this city, nephew of Hon. Sholton F. Leake.

Fire at Southern Depot.

The testing office of the Southern Railway, on the east side of Henry street, between Wolfe and Wilkes, caught fire in a mysterious manner between four and five o'clock yesterday evening, and before the flames were extinguished the structure was considerably damaged. The fire department rendered effective service in preventing what might have resulted in a serious conflagration. As it was, the roofs of the other buildings took fire at times, but the firemen prevented the spread of the flames. An employee who was in the testing office threw a dog from an upper window and then jumped to the ground, leaving most of his clothes and other effects which he had no time to remove.

Captain Miller Resigns.

J. C. Bosher, of Richmond, battalion adjutant of the Seventieth Regiment, has been made captain and quartermaster for the regiment. He will succeed Captain Ashby Miller, of this city, who has tendered his resignation and who is to leave the State. It is understood that Lieutenant Russell E. Norvell, of Company F, Richmond, will be promoted to succeed Captain Bosher. The orders fixing the appointments were read at the armory in Richmond last night. The appointments are made by Colonel George Wayne Anderson.

Attacked by a Boy.

A pair of rubber boots belonging to a boy employed at the Virginia Glass Works were secreted by another youth yesterday, and the owner of the boots went home barefooted. The latter's father subsequently proceeded to the glass works to inquire into the matter, and while there a brother of the boy who had taken the boots struck the man a violent blow on the top of the head with a hammer, inflicting serious injury.

Accident to a Fireman.

Brakeman Craig of the Southern Railway collided with a water tank at Culpeper yesterday morning and one of his arms was broken. His head was also seriously cut. The injured man was attended by Dr. Rixey, but later he was brought to this city where he received surgical attendance from the railway company's physician.

Negroes in a Fight.

The neighborhood of King and Henry streets was disturbed between two and three o'clock this morning by a fight which occurred at that intersection between some negroes who were on their way home from a ball. One of the belligerents was seriously cut on the head which caused him to yell "murder" at the top of his voice.

To Be Rebuilt.

The managers of the Virginia Glass Works have announced their determination to reconstruct that plant as soon as possible. The Virginia was the first glass works established in Alexandria. Two others followed in rapid succession, and this branch of manufactures has added materially to the industries of the city.

Meeting Postponed.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company, which was to have been held at Mount Vernon yesterday afternoon, was posponed because a quorum was not present. This was the third postponement for the same reason.

Resigned.

Rev. Emmett E. Miller, colored, who for a year or more has been in charge of the colored churches in Orange county and Alexandria, has resigned to accept a call to Plainfield, New Jersey. He will enter upon his new duties in March.

Death of Mr. Roberts.

The many friends and acquaintances in this city and vicinity of Mr. Alfred H. Roberts will regret to learn of his death which occurred today at his home in lower Fairfax county after a short illness of pneumonia. Mr. Roberts was a son of the late Robert F. Roberts, of "Cameron," near this city, and he was about 58 years old. He married a daughter of the late A. C. Harmon, of this city, who, with three children—two sons and a daughter—survives him. The deceased was a prominent farmer, a good citizen and a kind and indulgent husband and father. His death will be deeply deplored by all who knew him.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The last of the testimony in the interest of Judge Swayne in the impeachment proceedings against him was presented yesterday to the Senate. The case occupied seven hours of the day, beginning at 1 o'clock and closing at 10, with an intermission of two hours, from 6 to 8. Much of the time was spent in argument relating to the admissibility of testimony. The Senate also adopted an order granting each side five hours in the closing argument. The House bill providing a form of government for the Panama canal zone was passed early in the day but was amended so as not to abolish the canal commission.

Without a dollar being added or subtracted, the river and harbor appropriation bill passed the House after the session had run well into the evening. The total amount carried by the bill is $17,234,657. Throughout the day the progress of the bill was impeded by the offering of amendments, but only those presented by the committee were adopted. The bill will be sent to the Senate where there is a jam of legislation and its ultimate fate will depend upon the attitude of that body.

The Military Academy appropriation bill was sent to conference after the House had agreed to the Senate amendment placing Senator Joseph R. Hawley, of Connecticut, on the retired list as a brigadier general, and also agreeing to placing Gen. Peter J. Osterhaus on the retired list.

The conferees on the army appropriation bill yesterday perfected an agreement which covers all points of difference. The amendment regarded as most important is that affecting the pay of retired officers and involving the pay of Gen. Nelson A. Miles, which at present is the full pay of lieutenant-general. The effect of the agreement as to General Miles is to give him his full retired pay without reference to any compensation he may receive for service on the staff of the Governor of Massachusetts.

FRIDAY EVENING, FEB. 24, 1905.

"Drys" vs. "Wets".

As a result of the bitter fight between the "drys" and "wets" of Bluefield, W. Va., Councilman Abrabam Mas-ey, of the Second ward Wednesday night was locked in his home with a repeating rifle and a large supply of cartridges awaiting the arrival of a supposed crowd of angry "drys."

For the past several weeks the Anti-Saloon League, led by the ministers of Bluefield, has been waging war against the saloons and soliciting signatures to a petition to the City Council asking that body to decline to grant liquor licenses for the ensuing year. The league had succeeded in getting the signatures of a majority of the voting population of the city, including the indorsement of half the City Council. This would have necessitated the vote of the Mayor, who was considered a "dry" man, to decide the question. At the council meeting, however, Massey, who it is claimed had indorsed the petition, declined to vote, causing a decision in favor of the "wets."

Rev. Mr. Waters, of the Christian Church, angrily denounced Massey and was applauded by a large crowd of "drys." It seemed for a while as if Massey would be subjected to rough treatment at their hands. Later a policeman had to escort Massey to his home. Wednesday afternoon circulars were issued calling on the citizens to meet at the City Hall at 7:30 that night and march in a body, headed by a band, to Massey's home.

Massey purchased a repeating rifle and hurried to his home to await the coming of the crowd. It is now said that the circular was issued as a hoax.

Charged With Larceny.

Mae Stewart, 17 years of age, was arrested in Washington Tuesday charged with petit larceny. Captain Boardman received a telegram from the young women's parents in Lewinsville, Fairfax county, to search for their daughter. His detectives chanced to find her while she was riding in a street car. They immediately placed her under arrest. It is charged that on February 5 the young woman entered the cloak room of the choir at the Epiphany Church in Washington and secured four pocketbooks, some jewelry and a feather boa, which, it is claimed, she was wearing when taken into custody. Wednesday morning when questioned at police headquarters she confessed to the thefts and told the police where some of the stolen goods could be recovered. She is a tall brunette, striking, attractive and of a refined appearance. Yesterday she was arraigned in the Police Court and fined $100, and in default of payment will serve six months in prison.

Wife Horsewhipped Her.

Mrs. Alberta Wagner, of Moseley street, a handsome young woman, appeared in the Police Court in Norfolk yesterday to prosecute Mrs. Elizabeth Barker, of east Main street, for horsewhipping her. The case was continued till today to compel the presence of C. K. Barker, the husband. The charge is that after warning Mrs. Wagner not to accept the attentions of the husband Mrs. Barker called on Mrs Wagner and whipped her on the arm and shoulders. Mrs. Barker could not give bond, but Justice Simmons declined to send her to jail. She was committed to the custody of Chief of Police Boush to be cared for in one of the rooms over the Police Court.

Public is Aroused.

The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach; liver and kidneys. Mary H. Walters, of 546 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes: "For several months I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak, from useless doctors' drugs, that I could not eat. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50c.

Give Your Stomach a Rest.

Your food must be properly digested and assimilated to be of any value to you. If your stomach is weak or diseased take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest, enabling it to recuperate, take on new life and grow strong again. Kodol cures sour stomach, gas, bloating, heart palpitation and all digestive disorders. Sold by all druggists.

Bad breath, belching of gas and sour risings are due to Indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a guaranteed cure. L. A. Soper of Little Rock, Ky., writes us: "We feel that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure deserves all the commendations that can be given it, as it saved the life of our little girl when she was three years old. She is now six and we have kept it for her constantly, but of course she only takes it now when any thing disagrees with her." Kodol is the best medicine in the world for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. A trial of this greatest of all digestants will convince any who suffers. Good for young or old. Sold by all druggists.

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.
